I'm more tired than you as I reach down to tuck you into bed

I've got to find the bear and the tiger that sleep beside your head

This love that I feel is ferocious as a lion

So brave and so gentle that I almost feel like crying

It's a great big world

It's a great big moon

It's a great big sky

It's a great big love for you

It's a great big world

It's a great big moon

It's a great big sky

It's a great big love for you

Then I tell you a story of a lion who's your best friend

He gets you into trouble but he brings you home safe in the end

Someday all these stories may come to life as true

When a child of your own can wake that lion in you

It's a great big world

It's a great big moon

It's a great big sky

It's a great big love for you

It's a great big world

It's a great big moon

It's a great big sky

It's a great big love for you

It's a great big love for you
