Years passed still we stand rise above with our bear hands gained respect because we give respect to those down with our crew faced it all head up high never gonna let time pass us by we keep rolling, two feet standing with firm faith, we keep believing now our time has come gotta set things straight we kept our silence now we gotta break aint no holding back to those who cross the line prepare to meet your fate. we got our line tied up motherfucker we just had enough one, two step closer santa rosa crew's gonna bring you down and leave you with empty words nothing to spit, you fucking deserve it this is our final warning so from now on, better watch where you stepping. your final warning
