As I aimlessly wander around how could
I ever expect to be found
Until looking down and seeing
The light at the ground by my feet
I heard angels resound and there
I avowed this is the road I would take
Just to make it there for my sake now
I say that I'll never break

Chorus

I can get there by the light at my feet
You've made me walk in electricity
I can get there by the light at my feet
You are my everything all that I need

Now that I see it's so easy for me to proceed
On to my destiny
And let it be seen the light that you've given
Thee
Let it be efficiently electricity

You can take me there
