"Safe"

One for all
Nothing for one
And the more on your side the better
For them
They taught you your place
I can't even see your face
I don't understand
And I can't accept that you
Fell safer blending in
With the rest
And it makes me sad
That I should have to ask
Am I safe
If I don't want to be with you?
Did your new friends
Ever take the time
To tell you
What they're trying to prove?
For the first time in your life
People are afraid of you
