

Pink Razors

"Do You Wanna Go To Maymont?"

Visit "Do You Wanna Go To Maymont?" on MotoLyrics.com

Light bulbs are blinking without reason
And gas bills must be in season, can't
Open them quick enough, There's a strange
Squeaking in the walls and mildew growing
In the hall, can't seem to care enough.
This is my one and only offer, some fives
And tens in a sock drawer, but never enough.
And some knowledge that we might be forever
Poor forevermore. I can promise you a great
Life, you'll never be let down: full of low
Expectations, diminished motivations, defeatist
Approach to everything, unable to bank on Anything, excusing it all as reasoning.

Visit Pink Razors page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.