I know you hate me for the things I do that's okay because I hate you too I'll tell my friends that you'll never be one of them
I'd rather die alone than talk to you

You called out my name
Getting a little sick of all your stupid games

So we sit here again in silence and pretend that there's something going on with me and my friend and I wish I knew what you were thinking too I've had enough of this shit and I'm leaving you

You said you knew and I'm pretty sure you did too
That you did too
