From distance I can feel.
From distance I can see.
A people standing together.
Around a world collapsing.
Waiting for this self-awakening.

From distance I can feel.
From distance I can see.
From distance I can feel.
A loveless unification.
About to stand rejection.
Waiting for this self-awakening.

Dig down, dig down, inside they're burning.
The west profits, we keep on learning.
You can tell we lost control,
And of kids who los their souls.
In our selfish yearnings, selfish earnings.

Broken fall, broken fall,
Broken fall, broken fall.

Where did we go, where did we go,
Time is passing how much longer must it take,
We started somethin', now it's time fuckin' break.
Reassemble, what you value, is it silenced,
Locked inside a diamond case.
Let's break the locks,
Gonna take the locks that bind you,
Put them on machines of hate.

From distance I can feel.
From distance I can see.
A people standing together.
Around a world collapsing.
Waiting for this self-awakening.
In a world of hope
