They think we're blind
The game of mind-control takes toll with time
They buy your minds
Victimized by images from behind

No need to argue, keep in line
While they reel us into the consumer line
Quality-tested consumer must die
While they watch our profits grow right before their lies

What will you do when the world has turned to blue
PEPSI BLUE
Open your eyes and realize the the billboard is you

Then comes the day
To see the stars we're gonna have to pay
The games
