so you tried to believe in the castle made of the sand when it falls to the sea and your feet can't find dry land reach for my hand i sacrifice my life to give you my life in speakers, I try to be good even though I've been crossed like Jesus,

God knows i got a good heart but my blood is filled with demons i'm fighting myself, believe me, I'm far from ignorant, far from greedy if you knew where i come from knew what I've been through, you think that I should've been another outcome just like most kids, a father I did it without one come from the city where they, X you like malcom, then you wonder how come, i can move in the room full of wolves so swift so smooth, thank you mom for making me a man let a mother f*ckers knock my castle in the sand chorus:

so you tried to believe
in the castle made of the sand
reach for my hand, reach for my hand.

I live my whole life with the world on my shoulders So I can care less what this music game thows us I see them looking for the kiddies but they wont find 'em
I come from struggle, I'm a fighter, must you be reminded my mothers past as a trap has her blinded but I took her past, I took her pain, I made it strength I fought the game Do or Die, Pitbull's the name Now all I see is the future, mom I love you, I salute ya and no matter what happens, just know you the reason that I'm rappin

(chorus)

Look,
I'm from the home of the spinners, the winners, the big apple came down to south beach to build a new castle every day I'm hustling and every day you hassle, doing what you can and I'm doing what I have to, throw me in the jungle and I'll show you I'm a winner, I'm coming out with dinner and wearing a chinchilla, i did it for my town to show 'em the big picture, get hit, the switch, i promise to never switch up, this is for my brother, took three and went to jail, I'm sending all the pictures and of my shows thru the mail
he hit me with a letter, i know you'll never fail, so put me on a beach with a bucket and a pail

(chorus)
