You took what was unknown and brought it to life.
The questions we've pondered when you reached the light.
Indifferent our souls as we walk on this side.
Running from death with no place to hide.

What can be done ? Don't ask the reason.
Don't ask why - The time has come so tell me who decides.
Fate of our souls - Their final destinies.
Will it end - Will it end in trage.

Life after death do the planets still turn does everything fade black do we stand alone.
Tombstones in your eyes that i've seen when you cried.
The hopeless adventures - won't be denied.
