It's dark in this valley, really,
I cant see the sky, spite the trees
I wouldnt fallso easy, maybe,
If I would just stay down on my knees

Now I sit with my head in my hands,
and I stare at this tear stained sand,
Dont you know man, I heard what you said but,
It got lost in the space in my head

and you say that you know, you say that you feel
i know in my heart that there is something more real.
Its sweet in your mouth but you wont spit it out,
so now its going to burn you from the inside out
...but you say, its taking the pain away.

And now im alone, really alone as my eyes can see I wouldnt feel so alone, maybe,
if i would just stay down on my knees.

Now I sit with my head in my hands,
and I stare at this tear stained sand,
Dont you know man, I heard what you said but,
It got lost in the space in my head

i know in my heart that there is something more real.
Its sweet in your mouth but you won't spit it out,
so now its going to burn you from the inside out
...but you say, its taking the pain away.

...and you say, its taking the pain away...
