"Not For Me"

Lying here, overwhelmed with thoughts
There is no hope and it's tearing me apart
There is nothing more to say
That haven't already been said

Now there is someone in your life
I wish it was me
I'm left with my memories
Regretting my mistakes

I am losing all my sense and reason
If I could turn back the time and feel you
I would do anything to kiss your lips and hold you in my arms
But it's not for me
You made me feel so happy and perfect
You touched my heart and showed me heaven
Without you I am lost in the darkness
Trying to find the way

Misery loves my company
If I had explained my true feelings
If I hadn't made the wrong decision
Then perhaps you would have been mine

Now there is someone in your life
I wish it was me
I'm left with my memories
Regretting my mistakes

I am losing all my sense and reason
If I could turn back the time and feel you
I would do anything to kiss your lips and hold you in my
arms
But it's not for me
You made me feel so happy and perfect
You touched my heart and showed me heaven
Without you I am lost in the darkness
Trying to find the way

I am losing all my sense and reason
If I could turn back the time and feel you

I would do anything to kiss your lips and hold you in my
arms
But it's not for me
You made me feel so happy and perfect
You touched my heart and showed me heaven
Without you I am lost in the darkness
Trying to find my way
