"So Why"

Visit "So Why" on MotoLyrics.com

You, you think that you are so good
Like no one else ever could Forcing me to do better
You cross the line

You pin me down, you push me down
In your eyes you better than me
And my patience is wearing thin

If I am so bad why do you stay
If I am such a pain do something and save me your pathetic complain
We have talked so much it don't give a thing
You think that you deserve someone better than me
So why do you stay

You, you think that I am to blame
For all mistakes we have made
If you can not respect me you can pack your bag
