V1. Like a shot through the heart, like a knife cold and sharp

The cold winds of loneliness blow

But, they say that time can heal heart and mind

If somehow I could let you go

Ch. Maybe I will forget you it's true

You'll never again cross my mind

The day that my journey is through

And I drift down the river of time

V2. Since the day we met, and darling even yet

Our love seemed so honest and true

But my heart broke the day that I heard you say

That it felt like a prison to you

Ch. Maybe I will forget you it's true

You'll never again cross my mind

The day that my journey is through

And I drift down the river of time

Tg. The day that my journey is through

And I drift down the river of time
