Light in the tunnel seems so dark
We've been fooled from the start.
Some are weak and some are strong.
Now prepare for what's to come

Yeah yeah
Time is running out
And noone seems to care
(It's just too much)

Too much is never enough
We'll never live to tell
We'll never life to see
The collision
We'll never life to see
The collision

This lack of love and lack of hope
Leaves me shivering for more
Grabed by the violence around
Stabbed by the silence inside me.

We just fight ourselves
In a battle noone wins
(It's just too much)

Too much is never enough
We'll never live to tell
We'll never life to see
The collision
When push comes to shove
And all is said and done
We'll get what we deserve in the collision
We'll never life to see
The collision

(It's just too much)
Too much is never enough
We'll never live to tell
We'll never life to see
The collision
When push comes to shove

And all is said and done
We'll get what we deserve in the collision
We'll never life to see
The collision
