(Willie)

There's a young man in town slip slidin' 'round
He likes to roll free and easy
There's only his way; he calls all the plays
He lives on his island alone

(Waylon)

But the sea is for sure to test all the moors
Dropping off treasures from places unknown
Worth more than gold to only be sold
By this young man of stone

(All)

And we're all in your corner tonight as friends
Watching you stumble the path where we've been

(Johnny)

Hope your eyes open, (Willie) and you see the light

(All)

We're all in your corner tonight

(Kris)

The lifeboat we had was fragile and frail
By the time we set sail, life's half over
Waters of youth drown out the truth
He's got to have proof that he's grown

(Johnny)

There is no map or chart for a voyage of the heart
To love is a journey you make on your own
And if you don't take the chance, the angels won't dance

With an old man of stone

(All)

And we're all in your corner tonight as friends
Watching you stumble the path where we've been

(Johnny)

Hope your eyes open, (Willie) and you see the light

(All)

We're all in your corner tonight

(Willie)
Hope your eyes open, and you see the light
(All)
We're all in your corner tonight
