Question marks in the dark
Making hard to start- always never knowing
Suddenly, I can see how the path lies for me,
It's time to get going
I perceive your concern and I try to relate
You say I should be staying
You resist and insist telling me to beware
Like you've already been there
CHORUS:
No matter what you say, I'm on my way
No matter what you say I'll do it anyway
I say to each his own when all's told- it is wrong not to recognize this
I'm aware of your advice I really do understand
I hear what you're saying CHORUS ("i'm on my way" 3x, "i'll do it anyway" once)
No more misunderstanding
I won't be caught demanding
For your reassurance cause it has no consequence CHORUS ("i'm on my way" 3x, "i'll do it anyway" once,
"no matter what you say" until end)
