When I think about this it break my heart every time
Those pictures of you and me and him like a flick book in my mind.

There's so much that we should not have done
Too bad the lies still carry on
Who thought that we would fall in love?

I get a kick out of this
I'm making love with my fist
You just look so dirty when you cry
I love the thrill of the chase
To see that look on your face
I need you to dirty up my mind

It was so soon that you crushed me once again
I know that you gave yourself away
Can you tell me that you'd love me if I'd done the same?

I need you to dirty up my mind
I need you to want me every time
I need to know that you are mine
I need to know that you are mine
