Stare at the sun see everything
The start the end, what we might have been
There's different days but they're all the same
As close as I get they always slip away
In the end they always wanted more
Tell me have I made a difference at all?
Now you're born again like a butterfly
You beat your wings but the hurricane only dies

Chorus:

Come again
Did you hear the world is going to end tonight?
I'm so glad that you're here to hold me tight
You make me feel so safe and warm
And I don't have to be afraid anymore

I said don't be scared to sleep tonight
I promise that I won't be far behind
Now close your eyes, sing a lullaby
Kiss me softly as I wave you goodbye

Chorus:

Come again
Did you hear the world is going to end tonight?
I'm so glad that you're here to hold me tight
You make me feel so safe and warm
And I don't have to be afraid anymore

La la la...
