Everything changes when the sun goes down
I close my eyes and wrap myself in the sound
Sometimes I feel love and it's all I'll be thinking of Then you leave me in silence and I'm scared it'll never stop

Chorus:

I need to find a way
To bring you closer again
Or you might slip away
Please don't you go away again

This could be something beautiful
But just right now I can't see that at all Now open the door, but don't go where you've been before
Today might just be special
Your future might come to call

Chorus:

I need to find a way
To bring you closer again
Or you might slip away
Please don't you go away again

You break everybody's hearts
You heal the lives I've torn apart
The truth is I miss you so much
Am I so far out of touch?
Today might be the day that I run out of luck
That I run out of luck

Chorus:

I need to find a way
To bring you closer again
Or you might slip away
Please don't you go away again

The truth is I miss you so much
The truth is I miss you so much
The truth is I miss you so muchÂ...
