We're gonna drag dirt through your houses one by one
We're gonna pollute the minds of your first born sons
And when there's nothing left for you to take anymore
We'll leave you begging on your knees on a blood stained floor
So that when I die my soul will be totally clean

... And then the world goes BANG!

We're gonna block out the sun so you can't see a thing
And then we'll open up the wounds to let the devils in Right now I'm sending out a message to the great and the good
That they had better try to understand the misunderstood
So that when I die my soul will be totally clean

And then the world goes BANG!
And then the world goes BANG!

I'm gonna come
I'm gonna come
I'm gonna come out clean

I'm gonna come
I'm gonna come
I'm gonna come out clean
