We make for great liars and I must confess Baby I'm such a wreck and this guilt feels like a rope around my neck
Cuz I can't breathe so cast my body out to sea
And let the current take these Rosary beads away

I'm in the shadows taking bets, betting on a dead horse that I Can't make this on my own, I Can't make this on my own so I only go for broke or dead, sleepless nights in empty beds
This is the sin I sweat but you're the only one I regret

We make for great liars and I must confess
Baby I'm such a wreck and this guilt feels like a rope
around my neck
Cuz I can't breathe so cast my body out to sea
And let the current take these Rosary beads away

Now I wander aimlessly down these alleyways and sidestreets
Can't mend a broken heart, This is the honest part so My faith is lost, my head shipwrecked and Love's a kink in the neck
These are the faults I sweat but you're the only one I regret
