I have flown many skies
To the back of beyond
I have sailed many seas
Comes a time to return
Something's leading me home
Hear you calling my name
Feel you holding me tight
We are both still the same

I have dreamed of such a moment
And my time will come
I would die for such a moment
But it's easier said than done

I have tried every path
I have tried every road
I just wanna be free
I don't wanna grow old
You are taking my hand

Leading me to the past
Where I first fell in love
And I knew it would last

I have dreamed of such a moment
And my time will come
I would die for such a moment
But it's easier said than done

Kill me baby kill me with your love
Let me be forever young

Feel the sun of your love
Going down on my heart
It's the burn I can't bear
And it tears me apart

I have dreamed of such a moment
And my time has come...
