My soul builds up quietly
I await your return
To hear your sweet voice
Strengthen up my whole world
I peer in your eyes as you
Lay on my bed
Your hands and your smile
Your sweet scent in my head

You love me the way that I am
You reside in the fact that I'm not like them
Why was it me that you chose to feel for
Maybe that's why I name you

My mind is more open
My thoughts are more clear
I love all these feelings
You allow me to share
Why am I so lucky to
Have such a soul
Appreciates agrees with
All that I know

You love me the way that I am
You reside in the fact that I'm not like them
Why was it me that you chose to feel for
Maybe that's why I name you

Put past the cold
Turn about, hey
Turn about, hey

You love me the way that I am
You reside in the fact that I'm not like them
Why was it me that you chose to feel for
Maybe that's why I name you
