Don't act like you know what I'm going through.
Nobody ever turned their back on you.

Collar up against the wind again, I can't believe
And I will not pretend that you are not provoking me.

Now I'm lost in my fears.
Now I'm trapped inside hollow tears.
If you read my mind, I've got no place to hide,
Because what you don't speak, you say with your eyes.

The ice is thin; the seed is underground.
The bridge is burned; our ship is going down.

Collar up against the wind again, I can't forget
And I will not pretend that you aren't breathing down my neck.

Now I'm lost in my fears.
Now I'm trapped inside hollow tears.
If you read my mind, I've got no place to hide,
Because what you don't speak, you say with your eyes.

You won't believe me. You won't believe me,
But I won't let you down.
Why don't you leave me? Why don't you leave me?
Still, I won't let you down.
