"Freedom Song"

I'm sick and I'm tired of the media lies,
I'm sick and I'm tired of traitors that cries.
Of so called rights and freedom of speech,
evil and tyrrany is what they really preach.

The time has come for us to unite,
the time has come to stand up and fight.
Fight for our freedom and never retreat,
against the red terror, against the defeat.

Europe is passing through the darkness of time,
patriotism is the worst of all crimes.
Expressing your feelings can't put you in chains,
but we will never surrender rather taking the pain.

The time has come for us to unite,
the time has come to stand up and fight.
Fight for our freedom and never retreat,
against the red terror, against the defeat.

The victory must come sooner or later,
then we take care of every fucking traitor.
Europe awake now, Europe arise
No one will listen to the zionist lies.

The time has come for us to unite,
the time has come to stand up and fight.
Fight for our freedom and never retreat,
against the red terror, against the defeat.
