Getting kind of worried about my entropy:
I waste so much of what goes into me
I've got my brain in place to sustain me
But when I think, I burn off calories

Dust-to-dust: it's all-too-obvious
I try to live my life as I gradually combust

Your entropy exhibits specialty
Made to apply to your own chastity
Your innocence was turned from steel to goo
You were run through (i.e. were screwed)

I know what will go down if you continue this:
You'll jade with age, and you'll turn pessimist
It's such a silly, saddening sight, and it's
An existential detour that I'm glad I missed

Something great, soured through hate
I hope you change your mind, I hope it's not too late

Your entropy exhibits specialty
'Cause you've applied it somehow spiritually
Your innocence was turned from steel to goo
You were run through (i.e. were screwed)

Something great, soured through hate
I hope you change your mind, I hope it's not too late

Your entropy exhibits specialty
'Cause you've applied it metaphysically
Your innocence was turned from steel to goo
You were run through (i.e. were screwed)
