I heard a funny thing about me
But who the hell are you
I won't say that ain't true,
Lately I've been living on the edge
I don't recognize my own face or my friends.

Chorus:

Read the writing
On the wall
Hey, Mr. Smiley
Wake up, Mr. Smiley
Before you don't wake
Up at all, up at all
Today, I hired me a yes man

He simply agrees with everything I say
He does all my dirty deals

And feeds me my pills
As long as I'm still breathing he gets paid
Solo
Chorus

Yesterday I had a conversation
With all them voices in my head
One said I should quit
One said I was no good
One said to remind myself to get myself a fix

Chorus
Hey Mr. Smiley

And I'm feeling ten feet tall
You got to go now, they just called, they just called
Bye
Mr. Smiley
