Was it nothing I said
It's so attractive to be so silent to me
It keeps the mystery on and it seems it keeps me hanging on

Another letter from home
Don't know why I even read it
There's one big question
Don't know why I must repeat it

Maybe I care a little
Perhaps I'm ashamed of the story I told
But you were so evil
Was it so bad for me to say what you wanted to hear

Another letter from home
Dont know why I even read it
There's one big question
Dont know why I must repeat it

And you'll feel better if I dont speak
And you'll feel better if I dont speak

Another letter from home
Don't know why I even read it
There's one big question
I dont know why I must reapeat it

Another letter from home
Don't know why I even read it
There's one big question
Don't know why I must repeat it
