What will you do when it gets cold inside Lock yourself into your little room and die Daydream all day about discovery Lock yourself away and hope someone breaks down the door
All for a girl you destroy your world without hesitation
For crimson lip and caramel eye you push the button on tomorrow
Someday someone will follow in the footsteps you have hollowed
But it won't be her

And it's gonna take a while to learn All the things that you thought that you would rather yearn Earplugs are safely placed to filter out Any reason any logic that might trickle in You don't wanna hear it

All for a girl you destroy your world without hesitation
For crimson lip and caramel eye you push the button on
tomorrow
Someday someone will follow in the footsteps you have
hollowed
But it won't be her
And it won't be me
Well you did your best and she her worst Now you just wait and see How will it happen why does it matter
Its been so long and your so sure it's wrong
But any degree of certainty is out the window

All for a girl you destroy your world without hesitation
For crimson lip and caramel eye you push the button on
tomorrow
Someday someone will follow in the footsteps you have
hollowed
You'll be so badly disapointed
You know that someone somewhere in this stupid world will care
I hate to have to promise this but it won't be her
