You're alive
Like a virgin after the first time
A pleasure survive
By feeding on our troubled minds

As the planets align
I creep down your spine
As emptying asylums
Spill out into the night
Take your time, my love
And soak it in
Where one life ends
Another begins

You're alive
Like a virgin after the first time
Kiss me tonight
As if it were the last time

Razor to wrist, I can't resist
If I could seize the day rather than merely exist

I'll wear the suit, you'll play the role:
A devil, a god, a friend and a foe

Waking from the coma and I heard you say:
"What a perfect day to dream away"
Not a cloud in the sky as I close my eyes
And you sing me a heroin lullaby

Obscene and stuck here in limbo
Between insanity and some sordid dream within a dream
I may be coming undone
And I want nothing more than
To take you with me
Let's go further than we've gone before
Closer to the edge of disaster
Leave your inhibitions behind
Now you are a part of me that I can't deny Transitioned to the other side

Far from our shallow graves
This is paradise, eternal love forever and a day

Razor to wrist, I can't resist
If I could seize the day rather than merely exist

I'll wear the suit, you'll play the role:
A devil, a god, a friend and a foe

Waking from the coma and I heard you say:
"What a perfect day to dream away"
Not a cloud in the sky as I close my eyes
And you sing me a heroin lullaby

You're alive
Like a virgin after the first time
A pleasure survive
By feeding on our troubled minds

Waking from the coma and I heard you say:
"What a perfect day to dream away"
Not a cloud in the sky as I close my eyes
And you sing me a heroin lullaby

As the planets align
I creep down your spine
As emptying asylums
Spill out into the night
Take your time, my love
And soak it in
Where one life ends
Another begins
