"Starlight Requiem"

My God is better than your God
Therefore I'm better than you
My God is better than your God
Let's start a war

My God is better than your God
Therefore I'm better than you
My God is better than your God
Let's start a war

I wreak havoc on planets that I've never been to
I'll padlock up your heart just like a cage at the zoo
Spinning and stuck all up in my gravitational pull
Constellation mutation shift to Taurus, the bull.

Weightless, floating
We've arrived
Suspended in the Silent night
A warm embrace
The Cyclop's eye
Mass graves lit
By candlelight

Falling up into the sky
We orbit fractured satellites
In heaven only you and I
Unanswered prayers and angel cries

Reborn new day
Golden dawn
The bounty hunters
Of Babylon
A warm embrace
The Cyclop's eye
Winking at
These stellar spies

Falling up into the sky
We orbit fractured satellites
In heaven only you and I

Unanswered prayers and angel cries

Within a love completely uncorrupted
Lightyears from any earthly enemy
Like a pulsing flawless organism infinite
Were written in the starlight requiem

With no way to escape, you and I will find a way.
All evolution is crippled when dogma dictates

My God is better than your God
Therefore I'm better than you
My God is better than your God
Let's start a war

My God is better than your God
Therefore I'm better than you
My God is better than your God
Let's start a war

Falling up into the sky
We orbit fractured satellites
In heaven only you and I
Unanswered prayers and angel cries

Starlight requiem
We orbit fractured satellites
In heaven only you and I
(Starlight requiem)
Unanswered prayers and angel cries
