What does he want from me?
He says he's just a man
He says he hasn't got a plan
And that I should not try to understand

What does he want from me?
See how the rains come down
The voice of reason has been drowned
And now my world is turning upside down

I've been far away and gone so long
This lonely river flows so strong
I've been swimming out against the tide
On this lonely river ride

What does he want from me?
He says he's just a man
He says he hasn't got a plan
And that I should not try to understand
