you, you break my heart
you tear me up, in so many parts one part for you and one for me that is how it ought to be you, you know my sins you know that i will do them again i do one for you and one for me
that is how it ought to be

you struck me
that is why i'm standin' here
you struck me
you are everything i fear
you struck me
since you're gone our home has changed
you struck me
i just wanna get out of here

you struck me
you struck me
oh you oh you
yeah you
you break my heart
and that is how it ought to be
