Did he write a single letter
Did he even save the ones you wrote with love
Could he ever bring you comfort
Could he ever bring something up
You should really make him pay for Everything he has lost

Cause it's all he ever wanted
And it's all he'll ever miss
You're his broken silvertrumpet
You're his everlasting kiss

All those times you didn't trust him
When he just fell asleep and left you with your tears
Still you never could stop hoping
That he'd one day let you in
Help him cause he's faking
Just about everything

Cause you're all he ever wanted
And you're all he ever miss
You're his broken silvertrumpet
You're his everlasting kiss
