I still have some coins and I'm off for more
Sipping oil laughter goes on Where is Mary? Where has she gone?
I've fallen for her, hear the voices say:

You will never, you will never live!

Empty pockets, drops of her
Devil's dancing, drums in my head
Throat is dry, go drink some!
Coins are gone, go steal some!
Mary cries out: "Come on drink my blood"

You will never, you will never live!

She's my love and she's my companion
(and I cry)/ Takes me places deep within me
Told me she works for a nearby club
(and I cry)/ that became my life, yeah
I'm ready to die for you

I actually came across her that last day
Everyone called her Mary I just can't
Now that she's gone with another I get laid
Drinking up her essence vomiting

You will never, you will never live!

She's my love and she's my companion
(and I cry)/ take me places deep within me
Told me she works for a nearby club
(and I cry)/ that became my life yeah
I'm ready to die for you
