And I asked again :
"would it be alright for me to acquire someone else's disenchantment ? "
I could reconnect to another time and place
Reconsider letting loose and running rampant

(chorus)
Take me back - teach me
Take me back - apology
I never meant to be and I won't take much with me

Just an open mind and a second nature
Don't forget you might just drink the water
If it illustrates the nonesuch nomenclature...

So push the button ring the bell
Behold your tongue it's served you well
Enough to bring you here, won't you please...

(chorus)

If we fall to touch there will be no backlogged time
You can make believe it (like a bunch of postcards)
And the stones will read in a modest fashion :
"don't expect too much - you might be disappointed..."
