"Oh Michael"

You went to see the lights explode
Left laughter in our wake
Never spent the money from the bribes we wouldn't take
You were always one to say let's drive until it breaks

But oh Michael
You turned it down

You dictated the times for which we wanted to be real Exasperated by the ones who couldn't feel
You had always said that death is what we work until

But ou Michael
You turned it down

Is there a space on your redial tonight
For a used friend?

Have to know the number of an ice cream shop in hell
? The gun shape was a shell
I could always stand you
Could you stand by me as well?
But oh Michael
You turned it down
Oh Michael
