(Nicula/Bojescu)

You stand at the gates my love

Wond'ring to come in or not

You may come inside

To switch on the light

You will see me there

Sitting on a chair

Night arrives and kills the day

I hope you won't turn away

Would you come inside

To switch off the night

You will see me there again

And I'll tell you darling how much I would give

To get high when your charming smile lands on my lips

That's when I begin to feel you love

Simply enough

You stand at the door my dear

You still there and I'm still here

Would you come inside

You don't have to hide

You will see I'm home alone

And I'll tell you darling how much I would give
To get high when your charming smile lands on my lips
That's when I begin to feel you love
Simply enough, simply enough
Simply enough, simply enough
