What are we using to keep fire alive ?
I'm still awaiting but I have no time to try
To believe in what the mindless used to say
The words are dying but the lies are still alive

Do you receive me and the problems in my head ?
You won't be with me when I'm hopeless in the night?
You let them make all things undone
And leave the spaces that I should fill with aim

Ancient lies remind me of
All the ones who died believing in you
Every word is just like haze
Everlasting but the pain won't go
Every moment lies in every single life
Every word is just an empty smile
Ancient lies - you won't deceive me throw dust in my eyes
I won't believe you anymore....

Ancient lies remind me of
All the ones who died believing in you
Every word is just like haze
You head straight for those who don't know how

Send me a wonder or make the things alright
Don't tell those stories changing water into wine
How could I believe in what they pray ?
"If god is absent - who will pave my way?"
