You stand behind yourself in line
To not feel the crime you had in mind
'Cause sometimes mom has let you down
She never came to see you round

So then much of you goes and much of you leaves
So much of you goes so much of you

Declare your love when you find out
Don't pretend that your good
Just stay around when the suns out
Don't pretend that your good
Just get out of
Just get out of that cloud

It's not the world that wears you down
It's just the movies in your mind
I don't see why you should resign
We want you here your life is mine

But much of you goes...

Declare your love...

I forget the things I know
Sometimes I'm still resigned and so
Keeping close to all that cold
Saying there's no way to go
When I look to you I smile
Reminds me that we're still alive
See that you are wondering why
But I will kick you back in line

So then much of you goes...

Declare your love...
