You're wrong for trying to play off as if sincere. You said you were a friend but were never there. When i was down and in my time of need, you chose to ignore the blood that i bleed. This trust that i extended toward you ... The knives in my back i've counted a few. You strive for acceptance but it got in your way. Look at your life your road is unpaved. You live your life ... Each moment ... In a shadow of lies. Deceived as if were blind. As if were blind. As if were blind. Entangled within your lies. Shadow of lies. See through the lies right now. Now you live your life, as if you are blind. As if you are blind. As if you are blind. As if you are blind. In a shadow of lies.
