"Yesterday"

You don't see the way I fell in lee, and did you ever think I'd know?, I've contemplated all those past sensations, that I beat down long ago,

So while you can't wait for me,
My life's all you need,
That's bringing you down,

I know you know that you can't see the way I'm feeling,
And why should I feel this way again?,

Walk with me, I'll take you where you'll see, I've built a shrine for you and me,
the grass has grown over the weathered stone, right where our names used to be,

So while you can't wait for me,
My life's all you need,
All lyrics
That's bringing you down,

I know you know that you can't see the way I'm feeling,
And why should I feel this way again?,

Yesterday, I thought everything would be alright,
But now I know that things will never be the same,
so, why don't you walk away!,

I know you know that you can't see the way I'm feeling,
And why should I feel this way again?
you know,

that you can't see the way I'm feeling,
And why should I feel this way again?
