You've worked your whole life and you've got nothing to show stuck in your life and you've got caught in the undertow goin' down and gonna drown and there's one thing I know I don't wanna be like you hate yourself and you hate what you've become and I hate it to and I hate you and everyone that tries to stand in my way because I won't succumb Don't wanna be like you - give up your dreams and stand in line wasting your life and you're wasting time give up your dreams and stand in line - what happened to all you're hopes and dreams you're not the same and now it seems you've forgotten who you once were...that's so routine Do you brag about it to you friends? how rebellious you once were when it was the trend but now it seems so adolescent to offend...Don't wanna be like you
