You had a party
All your friends came around
Invite your friends and your enemies
Gather them together and make a loud sound

You had a party
All your friends came around
Invite your friends and your enemies
You make the loud sound
It could only be good for you

And you had the time
The time of your life
And you had what most people call good times

Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times
Don't forget to remember

You served refreshments
They make people feel so thirsty
You burned a bonfire
The dance floors buckled and the doors are burstin'

You served refreshments
They make people feel so thirsty
You burned a bonfire
And invited some depressing clowns
They had horns and they really got down

The fire department
Time of your life
Everybody went home sayin', "what a good time..."

Good times
Don't forget to remember all the

Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times
Don't forget to remember all the
Good times (x7)
Don't forget to

Remember them
Every chance that you get Pull out some pictures of
The parties you have with you
Well little did you know you'll Find that you were smilin' a lot

Good times...
