I walk in the streets, hoping that I'll find it
I reason with myself, knowing that it feels me
And I've seen the faces I'm used to seeing in dreams
Frightened to the point, knowing that it needs me
And love has me wrapped around it's finger
And I'm not used to seeing, seeing love

European Summer, this time it's not over
European Summer, I hope it never ends
European Summer, living like no other
European Summer, I hope it never ends

A long time ago, when people were believers
And customs were so sure and the times were full of hope
The screaming little children, crying to the people
So frightened and unsure, their fears on the rise
But God has hung their faces on the table
'Cos they're not used to seeing, seeing love

European Summer, this time it's not over
European Summer, I hope it never ends
European Summer, living like no other
European Summer, I hope it never ends

I walk in the streets knowing that I'll find it
Knowing to myself, my life will never end
Tired and bewildered, I stumble to the ground
And find myself upon the place I know
Remembering the reasons for leaving years ago
My mind begins to consciously return

My European summer, this time it's not over
European Summer, I hope it never ends
European Summer, living like no other
European Summer, I hope it never ends
