(She wakes me with a kiss every morning)
And she loves me to sleep every night
How lucky I am to have searched for
And found the beginning of the rest of my life

She wakes me with a kiss every morning
And she loves me to sleep every night
Her goal for each day is to find some new way
To please me and keep me satisfied

She wakes me with a kiss every morning
And she loves me to sleep every night
Her love is too strong to let me be wrong
Even when we both know I'm to blame

And when trouble and hard times are raining
Her love soaks up my share of the rain
She never complains and I've never seen distance
In her baby blue eyes

She wakes me with a kiss every morning
And she loves me to sleep every night
Yes, she wakes me with a kiss every morning
And she loves me to sleep every night
