Time and time again / Someone comes to take you to the Edge of something new / Why is it so hard for you to fall

I have stood alone / Watched you from a distance of a Friend who understands / One who'd always be there if you

Knew what you were looking for / And you know it when you've found it

With the key in your hand / It's time to walk a naked stage

Of glass from hot sands / Where a sound within your heart / Will rage

And it rocks in the head moving ever on / Life is an unforgettable opera

The time will come again / When staring in your eyes a place that

You have seen before / Always something to remind you

It's not a game of chance / Some you lose and some you just can't

Win them all at once / Time will give you everything

It's a rhythm that will never stop

It's like a clock that ticks between us

And the key's in your hand / Your time to walk a naked
stage

heart / Will rage

unforgettable opera

Take the key in your hands / It's time you walked that naked stage

Of glass from hot sands / Where a sound within your
heart / Will rage

With the key in your hands / It's time you walked that
naked stage

heart / Will rage

unforgettable opera
