It's only been a hour since you left me
But it feels like a million days
If eye had a magic wand eye could turn back time
Eye'd never let you go away

Eye didn't have the heart to say eye'm sorry
Now eye haven't got a heart at all
Eye could tolerate the pain if eye could talk to my best friend
But you won't even call, won't even call

Eye'm contemplating pulling out my suitcase
And packin' everything eye own
Eye didn't back then but eye do know now
Wherever you are is home

Eye'll crawl on my belly and beg you
But your so far away
You've only been gone for an hour
But it seems like a million days
A million days, a million days

It's only been a hour since you left me
Eye wish eye had somebody to blame
But your the perfect picture of what love should look like
And eye wanna be your frame
It's only been a hour but it feels like a million days

A million days
One hundred thousand million days
Come home, come home baby
Eye can't take this no more
Yeah, come home girl, oh yeah
Baby, baby, baby

Eye know eye shouldn't put my faith in heroes
But eye can't see you any other way
It's only been a hour since you left me girl
Feels like a million, feels like a million days

Come on home, baby
