"Purple and Gold"

the veil of the sky draws open the roar of the chariots touch down we r the ones who have now come again and walk upon water like solid ground as we approach the throne we won't bow down this time we won't b denied raise every voice and let it b known in the name of the purple and gold we come in the name of the purple and gold all of the odds r in r favor no prediction 2 bold we r the truth if the truth can b told long reign the purple and gold the eyes say ready 4 battle no need 4 sword in hand we r all amped up like a rock n roll band ready 2 celebrate every score ready 2 fight the elegant war ready 2 hear the crowd roar that's what we came 4 and so much more

r spirits may b tired r bodies may b worn but since this day is r destiny r history - that's y we must b 4ever strong as the wind that blows the Vikings' horn
